Our story began on Sunday, when the generous king Three ensembled his statesmen and masters to look about an important issue in his statehood when..

When a big carrot shocked the faithful minister Two's head !

The minister shouted painfully, while one of the guards picked up that amazing carrot, he found that it has got a speech for the king.. What a way to talk to the kings !

- "To King Three.. - one of ministers read the speech- if Prince Triangle was important to you, you have three days to pay a half of your treasury as a ransom, if you didn't, he has many opportunities to work for us! "

When the king heard these words, his face got so red and then he called upon his soldiers to catch the doer and to make sure about Prince Triangle disappearing..

Meanwhile , he was saying:

- Carrot?!.. Did the matter reach with them to send the speech to me by a carrot?!

The faithful minister Two - who has converted to number eight after the was hit on his head- said with his hand on his head:

- At least, it wasn't a watermelon, sir.. If it was, the minister Two would be in the past !

The king: Is this the time for optimism ?!.. it still to say "your horse will be happy with this carrot"..!

Minister: Or Prince's rabbit.. for example !

Here, the king realised that the minister's brain has effected with that hit.

So he silenced a little while one of the guards came running and said:

- Unfortunately, the news is true, sir.. We didn't find Prince Triangle anywhere, he was lastly playing in the palace garden, but we didn't find him although what we have done to look for him!

King's face got yellow this time, while another group of the guards came and declared that they didn't find the doer..

but one of them said that he had a doubt in number six ; a strange number was in the garden among the palace cleaners..

By this way, The king found himself shouting:
- Seven !.. Bring Seven to me !

Nobody do anything because Seven went out from the crowd quietly saying:

- Yes, Sir !

The king calmed himself little and said:

- Since you're here, you heard everything.. I want a solution now !

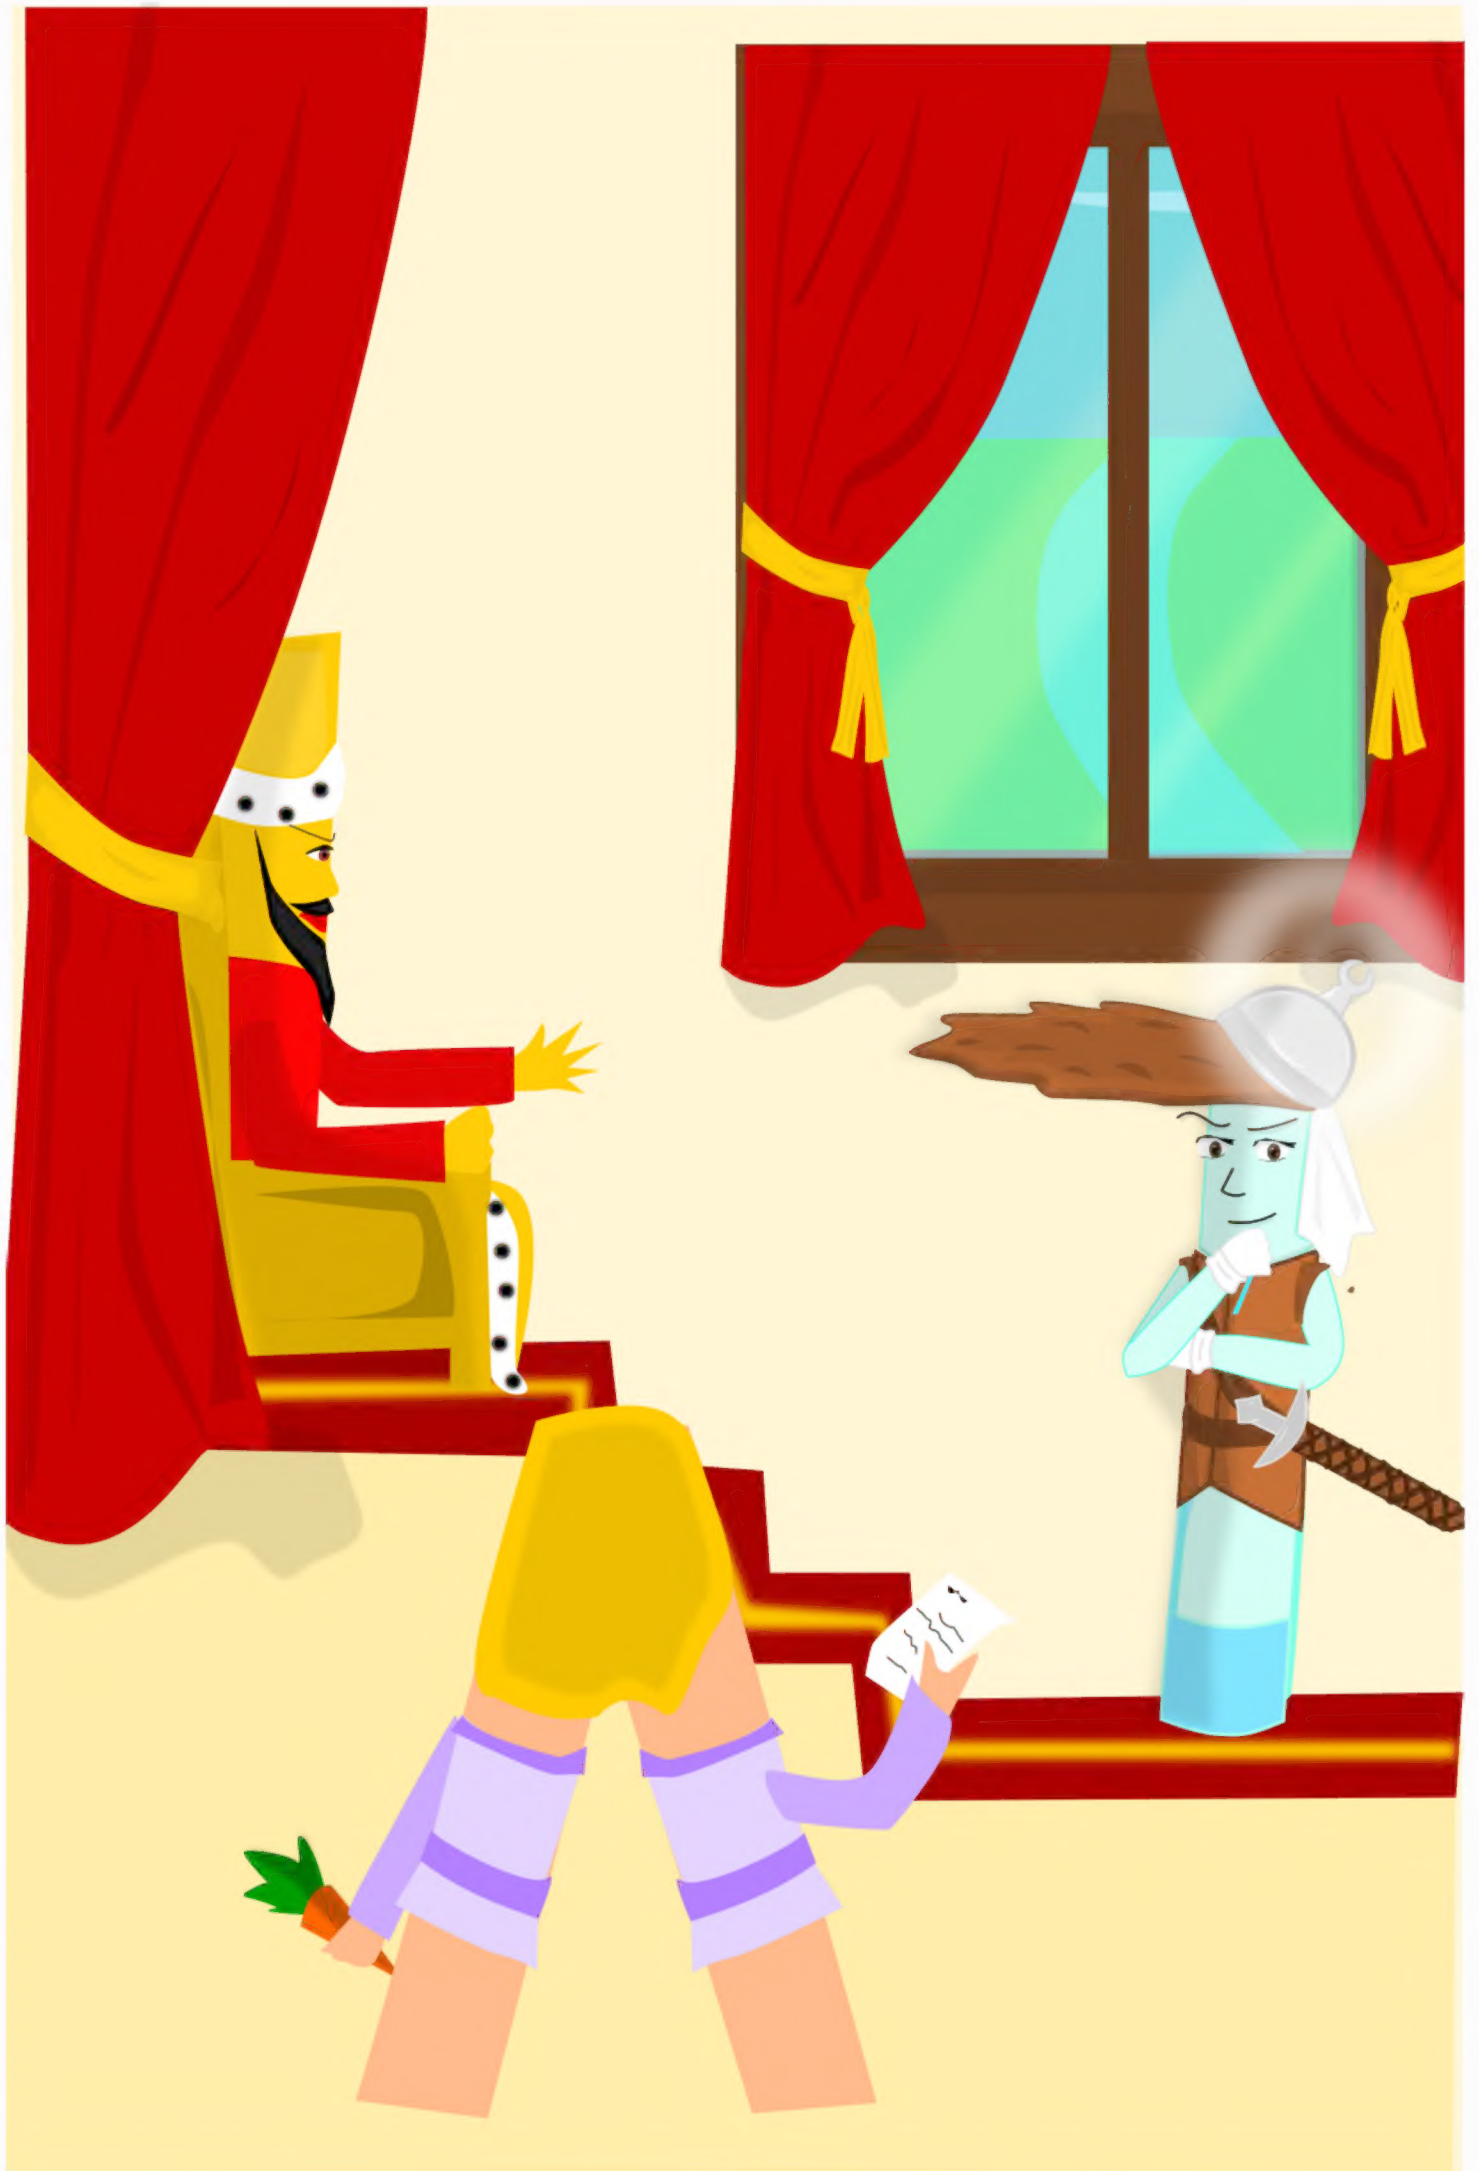

Seven: Although you said that isn't optimism time but I saw it is.. The carrot has told me two things which it didn't tell you..

The king replied sarcastically: What an insidious carrot !.. So what did it say to you?! it said that it's the hero carrot which will make the king hates carrots ever!

Seven smiled quietly, his crescent was twinkling when he said:

- No, it told me about his thrower's identity and his address.

The king adjusted his seat and said interesting:

- So tell me..without any introductions !

Seven: Well.. If it was without introductions, the doer is the wonderful number X the converter.. and his address is underground..

The king opened his eyes astonished and said:

- Who is this wonderful number X?

Seven: If you asked me before two days, I wouldn't tell you.. but one of my friends told me about him, it's a number not like any number!

It's the wonderful converter X..he can be any number he wants whenever he wants..he came to our country after he exhausted the other countries with his evil..

He added followers to himself and got dangerous as you see !

- Maybe it's true, as long as the matter reached with him to kidnappe my son and threatening me by a carrot.. However what makes us sure that he is the doer?

- At first, when the carrot hit the minister Two's head, he converted to eight; that happens if ($4 \times 2 = 8$), that means that the doer was number four..then the guard told us about that mysterious cleaner, and he was number six not four..

And because the crime happened as that simple and ghosting, that means he was lonely so nobody noticed him!

Seven silenced little after his crescent twinkled then continued:

- The other thing which the carrot told me, is he lives underground..

The king: And how did you know that, too?

Seven: Because he threw his lunch as it seems.. carrots is found underground..

The king: It's not so completely convincing, but the important thing is that you have to bring my son back.. Did you understand?!.. He shall come back before three days!

The king's face got red again but Seven said:
- Sir!..You should be trust in Allah's mercy and relax for the idea of three days; You're the king Three and it's three days..!

The king smiled with optimism and said:
- You're right!.. The three days should be in my side if Allah wills !

And soon the mission had stucked on our active hero Seven, he went out of the palace, praying for Allah to bless him..

But when he was walking slowly and thinking, suddenly he felt a hand on his shoulder, so he turned around to see the hand's owner but he saw nothing at first!

Then he could see his friend Two the master of colour; he has changed his colours to camouflage with the colour of the wall which is behind him..

Quickly, he changed his colour to green, so Seven said amazed:

- Is that you, Master of colours!

- How are you, Seven?..I'm here for helping you.. I was -among you- in the palace and heard everything, so I followed Converter X until his hidden..

Of course that by Allah blessing then by my special camouflaging power !

Seven: Awesome!.. Thanks God!..The solve has just come !

Two: Calm down a bit, friend!.. Converter X isn't easy and his gang is big..

Previously, I told you -for two days- that he invited me to work with them in his big gang that they called " White Ants"..

Actually, they're plenty and dangerous like white ants.. and if we have known their place, that doesn't mean victory for us..

But maybe that means we can be as thorn in this lion's throat..!

Seven: Yes, and one thorn can kill the lion.. Let's go, Master of colours.. Let's return the right to his owners.. Let's stop these villains in their limit !

Two: But the thorn to be dangerous, it has to enter the lion's throat.. Take the plan : me and you will be two ghosts and entered his darkness hole ..

Seven: How?

Two took off his cloak, put it on Seven and said:

- Take my cloak, it always -as you see - takes the colour which I have taken..

Master of colours got colouring with different colours amazingly and his cloak was colouring with him afar!

Finally, his colours settled on black and said:
- We'll be two ghosts.. black ghosts !

Seven: Thanks for God for making you toward the good!, if God didn't, it would be awful to goodness' lines to lose you, my friend !

Two smiled widely then they both went with blackness to that dark hole ..

Then behind the tree, both of the two friends were waiting longingly for the door to open..

But night came before anybody get out.. but suddenly, a person got out quickly, and the door was closing gradually but Seven threw his sword at the last moment and stopped it..!

They both hurried and entered it secretly..they camouflaged as dark brown and hid in its darkness ..although the white soldiers were passing on them alot but they couldn't notice them !

A long time passed before they can move.. then they walked carefully and silently step by step.. that wasn't an easy mission ever..

Seven was covering his head with the cloak and asking Allah to help them by every step!

Actually, That hole was as long as ants' hole completely filled with alot of rooms..

At first, our friends entered a room which was very big and crowded with young numbers which were training for fighting hardly and enthusiastically!

But fortunately, they were more busy to notice the two intruders who entered!

They both went out quickly and entered another room which was filled with a nice smell of delicious food!

There, workers were working hardly in sorting the food and cleaning it.. but our friends could notice that they -young and old - didn't seemed relaxed.. there wasn't any effect of happiness on their faces; because those poor were captives..

Master of colours sighed out saying:

- We got wrong again, Seven..

But Seven didn't reply, almost of his thinking and looks were on a little boy was trying to escape from one of the guards who caught him and started to hit him..

Here, Seven couldn't be silent and stand without do anything, So he scurried to them quickly while Two tried to stop him saying:
- Seven, wait..!

But Seven didn't hear him, he attacked the guard nine -who was hitting the child-, fought him with the sword and saved the poor child !

But quickly, other guards came when they heard swords sound, So Seven fell in a big proplem; which he couldn't go out of it but to the dungeon..

Guard Eight closed the dungeon door and sat down..while Seven sighed out sadly but he said:

- Thanks for God always; everything is good.. Certainly, good things will appear through that..

He started to look carefully around him, but..

Suddenly, he noticed that there was a person waving to him from the opposite dungeon, he stared at him until he could recognise him.. it was the little prince Triangle!

Seven had waved to him too, but another white guard's coming cut these messages.. Guard Two sat down while the first guard asked him:

- Where were you?

Guard Two with belching: Where?!...Didn't you know that the leader made an increase for the prison guards?!

Guard Eight: An increase!.. in the food?

Guard Two: I didn't feel happiness with anything as I feel by this delicious pancakes!

Guard Eight: Pancakes!..in honey?

Guard Two: And with nuts too !

Guard Two felt his lips with his tongue while the jealousy got clear on Guard Eight's face:

- Well, I have just waited for you and endured the responsibility.. Now it's your turn to endure the responsibility and if you declared my secret, I'll declare your secret, too !

Guard Two: Leave for me..at least one!

Guard Eight: Why, greedy?..You have already eaten!

Guard Eight hurried out and a few time passed before Guard Two opened Seven's dungeon door while Seven was smiley; he knew his friend Two the master of colours who was disguised with the guards uniform and dressing the guards helmet !!

Immediately, Master of colours opened Prince Triangle's dungeon and the prince hurried to Seven to hug him.. Master of colours said:

- Now, hold Prince Triangle under the cloak and Let's hurry before Guard Eight discoverers my trip.. at least, food room is far from here..

They both camouflaged and got out carefully, they went left in that big maze.. After they went a part of the way, they noticed that the guards got angry and stress clearly..

So our friends realised that the guards discovered the disappearing of Prince Triangle and So our friends had to be faster carefully..

All things were as they want until our friends lost in that paths and ammazed..

Suddenly Glossy crescent twinkled and Seven knew the right way!

but unfortunately, guards noticed the crescent's light and knew thier place..

Quickly, the soldiers followed them.. our friends had run fast but guards were coming from everywhere!

From way to another, they were entering and going out and that chasing continued for a long time..

Finally, they found themselves in front of a big door..

Because the soldiers were chasing behind them, they had to enter but they had got a big shock when they found themselves face to face with Converter X sitting on his throne!

Converter X said sarcastically:

- Welcome !..welcome !..Look at our guests today!

Seven and Master of colours exchanged disappointed looks while the guards - behind them- arrived and the guards in front of them pulled thier swords out !

It would be the end but Glossy crescent twinkled a strong twinkle, so a brilliant idea twinkled in Seven's head; he got his amazing zero out !

Immediately, it got big..Then Seven, Prince Triangle and Master of colours rode it and then Amazing Zero scurried very fast, it was hitting the guards right and left..!

while other guards couldn't be as fast as the Amazing Zero at all!..Thus, our friends passed through the corridors easily while the astonishment was roping guards' tongues and feet..!

Master of colours said, while his hair flying from the intensity of the air:

- That's the door..Seven!

Seven shot his sword toward the door and with Amazing Zero's fast, he could destroy the closed door to seven parts flying in the air!

And by one push, the amazing zero flew out highly in the air in a cloud of dust and soil and.. Ouch !

It fell down on the grass, cut and threw them at the chasing guards, so they converted -instantly- to zeros..!

Amazing Zero went to the road quickly, it was going right and left in order to not hit pedestrians who were falling of surprising!

Finally, Amazing Zero stopped in palace's courtyard, Seven got down with Prince Triangle in his arms, saying:

- Thanks for God.. all of that was by Allah blessing!

He took Amazing Zero and put it in his pocket then turned around for talking with master of colours but he couldn't find him!

He looked for him alot but in vain, while the king's soldiers rounded around Seven happily and repeated blissfully:

- "Allah Akbar! (Allah is more great) " and "
There's no god but Allah "

And they held him on thier hands and took him to the king who got out of his room quickly running and hugged his dear son!

Then after, the happiness and nice nights had been announced because of the dear Prince's coming back!

The king send his soldiers to the evils' hole, and they defeated them and captured a group of them..

Also they could save the poor captives and that little boy, but they couldn't find any trace of Converter X !

Then the king insisted to give Seven a big award although his refusing, and also he made a fantastic party for him, So Seven became the star of the party!

There, Glossy crescent twinkled a brilliant twinkle which lighted our story that has already finished with Allah's blessing!!!!
